

Online Parcel Data GIS Disclaimer

Some of Standish's parcel data is now available to the public by using free online software. You must first download and install Google Earth to view this data. Please click the following link: <http://www.google.com/earth/index.html> and then follow the instructions to install Google Earth. After downloading and installing Google Earth you can then open Standish's Parcel Data. To do this read the following statements and click on "I Agree" button below. This link will take you to data that then should be saved to your desktop. After you have downloaded the zipped file to your desktop double click the "doc.kmz" file. This will start the previously installed "Google Earth" program and display the parcel data on top of Google Earth's aerial photos. The associated assessing data can be viewed by clicking on the lot of interest.

Note: during the process of exiting Google Earth you will have an option to save this new parcel data as one of your my places (under the "File" options) should you choose to do so you can reopen this information without having to revisit the Standish Website.
